

Education is Being Reimagined

Ambassador Gets You Out in Front, Simplifying Course Materials Adoption, Management, Delivery and Access

Course Materials Have Never Been Easier

For nearly five decades, schools have trusted Ambassador to ease the adoption, management, delivery and access of course materials and content integration programs.

- We do our own inventory management and fulfillment for print and digital so materials are ready and available when students need them.
- Our experienced, in-house technology experts handle all integrations and customizations, relieving the burden from your IT team and infrastructure.
- We deliver 360-degree transparency for all transactions and have the controls in place to verify access, usage and fees so students don't overpay for content.
- Our responsive, knowledgeable client services group supports everyone, every step of the way.

Meet Our Award-Winning Course Materials Platform, RODA

RODA makes it easier for students, schools and publishers to learn, work and collaborate.

For Students: RODA simplifies access to affordable course materials.

For Schools: RODA streamlines operations, integrations, financial controls and publisher relationships.

For Publishers: RODA eases account management, integration and reconciliation processes.

Ambassador makes course materials simple, effective and affordable.

Ambassador Connects Students to their Course Materials Easily and Effectively
Inclusive Access and Equitable Access (All-In)	Online Bookstore	Hybrid Bookstore	Fulfillment
Students automatically receive course materials in time for the first day of class, plus they can easily decline materials through our EZ Opt-Out functionality.	Students have 24/7 access to your school-branded online bookstore to purchase materials, along with self-help tools, plus our mobile-first, responsive layout provides an easy on-the-go experience.	Students benefit from a blended shopping experience, purchasing course materials online while connecting with each other and stocking up on ancillary items at the on-campus store.	Students save time as Ambassador aggregates all print course materials and delivers them in bulk to the school for distribution.

The Ambassador Difference

Team Ambassador prides itself on being the very definition of a partner, a collaborator and an innovator, serving higher education institutions across all sectors, K-12 schools and districts, and publishers. We ensure more students have access to more affordable course materials, and that schools and publishers have the technology and analytics they need to keep tabs on all of it.
